Best American Continental Cuisine The Farmhouse Restaurant at Loch Nairn Golf Club

The 1734 farmhouse flaunts its age with style, blending rusticity, sophistication and a bit of playfulness. Beautiful oriental carpets make a statement as do old farm implements, some a curiosity because you can't figure out their use. (The servers know.) Candlelight and fireplaces warm the comfortable space that would make a perfect Early Americana stage set. Prime examples of its delicious abundance: Veal Tenderloin and Lobster with oyster mushrooms, white wine/capers sauce and lobster risotto; Baked Salmon filled with spinach, brie and lobster. Don't miss The Farmhouse Crab Cakes. Appetizer stars include Welsh Oyster Stew and classic Escargots. For your consideration: a Tasting Menu, Prix Fixe and Champagne Sunday Brunch.
